OPPOSITE: Open on three sides, the screen porch welcomes cross breezes. The cheerful Buoy's Club painting above the mantel is by North Carolina artist Trip Park. ABOVE LEFT: Low-upkeep materials, such as the fiber cement board exterior, allow more time for relishing the view. ABOVE RIGHT: A deep plantation-style two-level porch spans the front of the home and carries shade over the sitting areas. BELOW LEFT: Organizational cubbies catch sandy gear and shoes just inside the informal side entry. BELOW MIDDLE: A splash of avocado on the underside of a trough sink is just enough color to cheer an upper-level guest bath. BELOW RIGHT: A beach house must: an outdoor shower for rinsing off sand. The periwinkle blue connects with the interior spaces.
