benefit so many local charities. Working with past NHBA president Dodie Adams was a pleasure.”

The exterior of the house features James Hardee batten board siding, pre-finished in Timberbark. Tapered Artic White wood pillars with stacked Coronado stone bases accent the front porch. The Clopay garage doors were donated by Mark and Barbara Chauvin. The landscaping complementing the house is by Raindance Irrigation.

As you walk into the foyer, you are struck by the light from the large windows facing the back porch and yard; the windows are set into period moldings for architectural detail. The open-concept living room has a raised hearth, ventless fireplace of Coronado stacked stone by Coastal Insulation; the floating cypress mantel adds another touch of rustic charm. The beautifully coffered ceiling holds recessed >>
